

Mice Factsheet

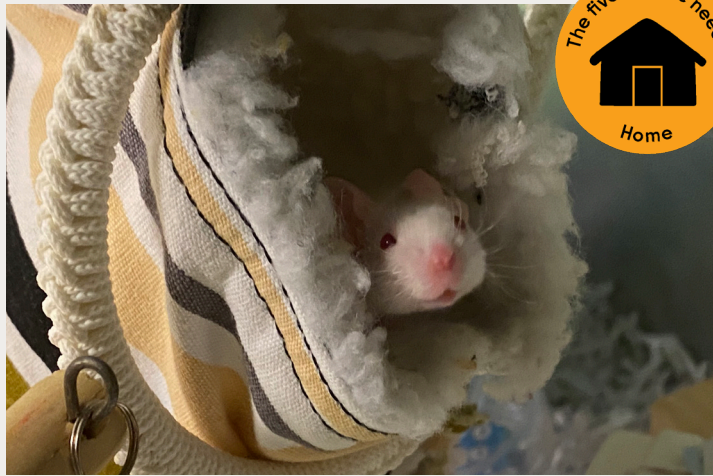

It's important to keep your pet happy and healthy, so find out the five basic welfare needs for mice in this fun factsheet.

Home

Home comforts.

Mice love to explore and climb, so a mouse house with lots of fun toys is their dream home!

Diet

Feeding time.

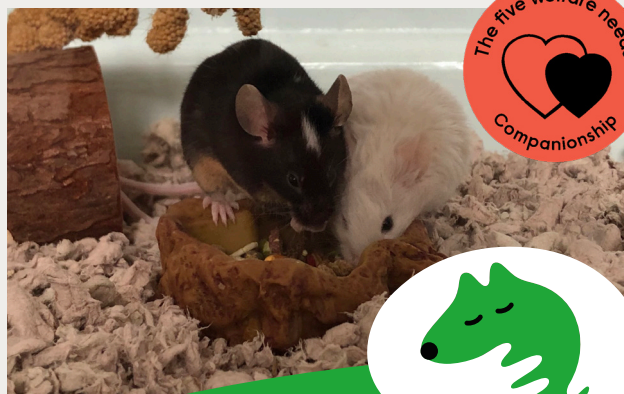

It's fun for mice to find their tasty treats or meals, so scatter a high quality dry mix mouse food around their home and toys. Always provide fresh, clean drinking water daily too.

Companionship

Pet pals.

Mice love mingling with other mice. Girls are fine living together, but boys should be neutered so if they move in with the girls, there are no unexpected baby mice on the way!

Vet Care

Health and wellbeing.

Mice are generally healthy little pets, but always keep an eye out for any changes in their behaviour, and take them to a vet if you're worried. They may suffer from itchy mites if kept on sawdust, so shredded paper is best.

Normal behaviour

Keep your pet happy.

Put some kitchen roll tubes or a small branch from an apple or willow tree in a mouse house, and watch them eagerly climb up! Mice like being busy and exploring, so rotate their toys daily to keep them mentally stimulated.

Why not make your own mouse food?

Mix together: 6 scoops of rabbit/ rat muesli, 1.5 scoops of dog biscuits, a handful of healthy seeds, nuts, dried fruit or dried noodles, 3 scoops of healthy, low sugar breakfast cereal like cheerios and half a scoop of uncooked wholemeal pasta.
